CableSaver™ Bed Communication Cable System

CableSaver system replaces standard bed communication cables with a pinless Centronix connector that separates when pulled, eliminating broken pins and station damage. The Adapter is easily attached to the front of your existing station using the included screws and features both a Centronix and standard 37-pin receptacle, allowing you to phase in CableSaver cables over time. This patented system is proven to outlast standard cables 20:1 saving you time and money.
